

Neag School of Education's Dept. of Educational Psychology Presents:

Teaching and Learning with iPads

A One-Day Conference for K-12 Educators

Wed., May 16, 2012

8:30 a.m. - 3:00 p.m.

Classroom Building

(located behind Student Union)

UConn, Storrs Campus

Keynote Speaker: In her keynote address, Dr. Alice Christie will not only inspire you to imagine what happens when technology becomes an integral part of the learning environment, but she will also model numerous ways learners can use mobile devices and apps to achieve unimaginable heights. She will illustrate how mobile technologies help support students' problem solving, critical thinking, visual literacy, and communication skills.

Conference Schedule:

8:30 - 9:00 a.m. – Registration
9:00 - 9:15 a.m. – Welcome & Introductions
9:15 - 10:15 a.m. – Keynote w/ Dr. Alice Christie 10:15 - 10:30 a.m. – Break
10:30 - 12 p.m. – First Set of Breakouts (6 topics)
12:00 - 1 p.m. – Lunch
1:00 - 2:30 p.m. – Second Set of Breakouts (6 topics)
2:30 - 3 p.m. – Share Your Favorite App & Wrap up

Breakout Sessions Topics:

- Top App Picks for Education
- Making and Editing iMovies
- Tying iPad Use to the Common Core
- Electronic Textbooks for iPad
- Science Labs and iPads
- Enhancing Math Learning with iPads
- Making Music with iPads
- Using the iPad to Teach Spanish & other Foreign Languages
- Adaptive Technology with iPad for Special Education
- Enhancing Social Studies Learning with iPads
- Policy Suggestions to Manage iPad Implementation
- Creating eBooks with and for the iPad

$75 registration fee includes conference,
lunch & parking

To register and for more information:
<http://neag.uconn.edu/ipad2012>

Co-Sponsored by the Connecticut Educator's Computing Association and the UConn Chapter of Phi Delta Kappa (Technology CEUs Available)